Numb. 418.

THE Pennſylvania GAZETTE.

Containing the freſheſt Advices Foreign and Domeſtick.

From December 9. to December 16. 1736.

The Difference which lately ſubſiſted in New-York, between Mr. Clarke and Mr. Van Dam, on Account of the Preſidentſhip of that Province, is now ſettled; yet in New-Jerſey there ſtill remains a Diſpute of the ſame Nature between Col. Morris, and John Hamilton, Eſq; The following is the Report of a Committee of Council in that Province, on Occaſion of Col. Morris's demanding the Adminiſtration.

To the Honourable John Hamilton, Eſq; Preſident of His Majeſty's Council, and Commander in Chief of the Province of New-Jerſey.

SIR,

COLONEL MORRIS having thought fit yeſterday at the Council-Board to demand the Adminiſtration of the Government of this Province, by virtue of his Majeſty's Commiſſion and the Royal Inſtructions to the late Governor, and your Honour having been pleaſed to refer the Conſideration of that Affair to us, and laid the ſaid Commiſſion and Royal Inſtructions before us, that we might be enabled to form a Judgment, whether any Article or Clauſe therein can affect the preſent Adminiſtration of this Government, ſo as to give the ſaid Col. Morris any Right thereto, We have, with all the Caution and Attention that becomes us, on this extraordinary Occaſion, peruſed them both, and do find that the laſt Clauſe of the Royal Commiſſion is in theſe words, viz.

'And if upon your Death or Abſence out 'of our ſaid Province, there be no Perſon upon 'the Place commiſſionated or appointed by Us 'to be our Lieutenant Governor, or Commander 'in Chief of the ſaid Province, Our Will and 'Pleaſure is, That the Eldeſt Councellor, whoſe 'Name is firſt placed in our ſaid Inſtructions 'to you, and Who ſhall be, at the Time of your 'Death or Abſence, Reſiding within Our ſaid 'Province of New-Jerſey, ſhall take upon him 'the Adminiſtration of the Government, and 'execute Our ſaid Commiſſion and Inſtructions, 'and the ſeveral Powers and Authorities there 'in contained, in the ſame manner, and to all 'intents and purpoſes, as other our Governor or 'Commander in Chief of Our ſaid Province, 'ſhould or ought to do in caſe of your Abſence, until your Return, or in all Caſes, until 'Our further Pleaſure be known therein.'

From whence we think it very clear and plain, that the Adminiſtration of the Government is legally veſted in your Honour, and devolved on you upon the Death of the late Preſident Col. Anderſon, you being at that time the Eldeſt Councellor reſiding within the ſaid Province, and having been duly Sworn thereinto. And though by the Royal Inſtructions Col. Morris's Name is the firſt in the Liſt of Councellors, we cannot think his Return from England (where he was at the time laſt mentioned) can any ways entitle him to the Government, becauſe the Clauſe in the Royal Commiſſion above mentioned, ſeems to us to be a Bar againſt any ſuch Pretention; for we find in the Minutes of Council, an Inſtruction bearing date the 3d Day of May, 1707. from her late Majeſty Queen Anne to the Lord Cornbury then Governor of this Province, in theſe words, viz. 'Whereas by a Clauſe 'in our Commiſſion and Inſtructions to you 'Our Captain General and Governor in Chief 'of our Province of New-Jerſey, it is directed, 'that upon your Death or Abſence, in caſe 'there be no Lieutenant Governor, appointed by Us, upon the Place, then the Council 'to take upon them the Adminiſtration of the 'Government, and that the Eldeſt Councellor 'do preſide, as by the ſaid Commiſſion and Inſtructions is more particulary ſet forth. And 'We having obſerved, that this Inſtruction 'has given occaſion of many Controverſies and 'Diſputes between the Preſidents and the Councellors, and between the Councellors themſelves, 'and otherwiſe, in ſeveral of Our Plantations, 'to the great hindrance of the Publick Buſineſs, 'and the Prejudice and Diſturbance of Our Service there, Our Will and Pleaſure therefore 'is, That if upon your Death or Abſence 'there be no Perſon upon the Place commiſſionated by Us to be Our Lieutenant Governor or Commander in Chief, the Eldeſt Councellor, whoſe Name is firſt placed in Our ſaid Inſtructions to you, and who ſhall be at that Time of your Death or Abſence, Reſiding within Our ſaid Province of New-Jerſey, ſhall take upon him the Adminiſtration of the Government, and execute Our ſaid Commiſſion and Inſtructions, and the ſeveral Powers and Authorities therein contained, in the ſame manner and to all intents and purpoſes as other Our Governor and Commander in Chief ſhould or ought to do, in caſe of your Abſence, until your Return, or in all Caſes, until Our further Pleaſure be known therein.

Which are the very Words in the above-mentioned Clauſe, and appear to us to be in order to prevent Diſputes of this very Nature, and are full in the preſent caſe. Neither do we think any thing leſs than the Royal Pleaſure ſignified in expreſs words, can diveſt your Honour of the Adminiſtration, or give Col. Morris a Right to it, not the Royal Inſtruction (a Copy of which he tendered to the Board yeſterday) had he been pleaſed to ſhew it: for it appears by the Minutes of Council, that That very Gentleman was in the year 1709, ſuſpended from his Place in Council here, and was not reſtored thereto but by a Letter from her late Majeſty Queen Anne, under her Sign Manual, to Col. Hunter, then Governor of this Province, dated the 8th of January 1709, commanding her ſaid Governor To Reſtore him (in expreſs words) to his Place and Preſidency in the Council. How much more reaſon is there then to expect the Order ſhould be very expreſs, that is to diveſt you of the Adminiſtration of this Government, of which you are in Poſſeſſion by expreſs words both in the Royal Commiſſion and Inſtructions to the late Governor.

For we cannot find any thing in the Royal Inſtructions that can give Col. Morris any colour or pretence to demand or take upon him the Adminiſtration of the Government, except his Name being the firſt in the Liſt of the Councellors, as in truth it is in the Inſtruction Numb. 1. But that Gentleman was in England, and had been there more than twelve Months before the Death either of the late Governor or Preſident, as is before-mentioned, and did abſent himſelf from this Province, and continued abſent for near the Space of two Years, without leave from the then Governor, under his Hand and Seal, or any other ways, that we could ever hear or learn; And therefore we are of Opinion, That by the King's Inſtruction Numb. 10. his Place in his Majeſty's Council, in this Province, is become Void. And upon the whole, That the Adminiſtration of the Government is Lawfully and Rightfully veſted in your Honour; and we make no Queſtion but you will ſteadily purſue ſuch Meaſures as may beſt conduce to the Honour and Intereſt of his Majeſty, and his good Subjects here, and exert the Authority you are cloathed with, in the Preſervation of the Peace of the Province.

[We ſhall continue the Proceedings relating to this Affair in ſome ſubſequent Gazettes.]

London, Auguſt 21. As Means have been found to divert his Catholick Majeſty from the Expedition he threaten'd; the Troops which were canton'd about Naples, againſt the Execution of his Project, to the Number of 14,000 Men, and waited only for Orders to enter upon their March, have laid aſide all expectation of ſeeing Tuſcany this Summer. They write from Naples, that during the late Aſpect of Affairs, Don Carlos having called for a State of his Military Cheſt, found, that by the good Conduct of his Miniſters, there was no leſs a Sum in it than three Millions of Livres.

His Imperial Majeſty is ſo well aſſured of the happy State of his Affairs in Italy, that 26 Battalions of Foot, and 6 Regiments of Horſe, are actually on their March from thence to the Camp forming on the Frontiers of Turky, which is to conſiſt of 70,000 Men and to be commanded by the Duke of Wirtemberg. The Emperor is extreamly importunate with the Grand Signior, to give an immediate Anſwer to the Propoſals offered for an Accomodation with Ruſſia, his Imperial Majeſty appearing determined, in caſe he makes any Delay, to attack him before he can have Time to put himſelf upon his Guard. The Czarina is ſaid to have concluded a new Treaty with the Emperor on this Occaſion, in which ſhe promiſes that in Return for his making a Diverſion upon the Turks, ſhe will always have an Army of 50,000 Men at his Service, to be employ'd as he pleaſes, but ſubſiſted at her ſole Expence. Her Czarian Majeſty is ſaid to have made large Offers to the Senate of Venice, to engage the Republick to enter into the War; and Letters from thence mention, that the Venetians are ſo far attentive to her Project, as to have appointed an Envoy to repair inſtantly to the Court of Petersburgh.

September 11. The Fire which happen'd the 25th of laſt Month at Petersburgh, has thrown that fair City into the greateſt Confuſion, and the Inhabitants into the utmoſt Conſternation: It broke out about Noon, in that Part of the Town where the principal Merchants have their Warehouſes and Shops; and the Wind being high, all Help was in vain, the Flames took head, and baffled all Reſiſtance, and continued ſpreading till about Eight at Night. The Quarter ocupy'd by the Merchants, conſiſting of 500 Dwelling and Warehouſes, was entirely conſum'd, together with great Quantities of Cloths, Velvets, Silks, Stuffs, Linnen and Spices. 1500 Houſes were burnt down in other Parts of the City, ſeven fine Palaces belonging to the Officers of

of the Empress's Court lie in Ashes, as does the Post-Office, the Slaughter-house, and the Shambles, in which were great Quantities of Meat and Provisions; and notwithstanding the great Care that was taken, several Persons perish'd in the Flames.

On the 31st of the same Month, likewise about Noon, a terrible Fire broke out at Pont Arlier, a Town in Burgundy, which consumed upwards of 300 Houses, with all their Furniture and Provisions; twenty Persons also perished in the Flames. Above 600 Families are ruin'd by this Accident.

About One o'Clock Yesterday Morning a Fire broke out at the House of Mr. Coomes, an Oil-man at Cock-hill in Ratcliff Highway, near Bell-Wharff, occasion'd by melting some Tar, which consum'd to the Ground forty Houses in the Front of the Street, and burnt with such Fury, that in four Hours time it laid waste all the Houses in the Alleys quite to the Water-side.

They write from Bristol, that the Body of John Vernham was buried last Week in Kings-road; but that Joshua Harding is still alive, and 'tis said will be pardoned.

London, September 25. They write from Ireland, that a Writ of Restitution being order'd to be serv'd by the High Sheriff of the County of Dublin, upon one Capt. M'Cullogh, for restoring Possession of the Castle of Breymore in the said County to Mr. Tummin, who had procur'd a Judgment for the same in the Court of King's-Bench, the Sheriff went on the 7th Instant to put the said Writ in Execution, but found the Captain strongly fortify'd in his Castle. But considering how great a Reflection it would be to the County of Dublin in general, and his Character in particular, having been bred in his Majesty's Service and particularly in his Guards, and during his Time of being High Sheriff, he therefore piqu'd in Duty to his King, and in Disdain that his Majesty's Process should not be executed within twelve Miles of the Face of the Government, determin'd not only to lay Siege to the said Castle, but to take the said M'Cullogh in Person, either by Storm, or by Blockade, in starving the Resisters, or never to quit the Spot, since by the second Statute of Westminster he was not to make a Return that he could not execute the Writ, as redounding to the Dishonour of the King. With this becoming Resolution he retir'd back to Dublin, acquainted the Lords Justices of the Affair, ask'd a Corps of Reinforcement in case of need, and in the mean Time armed all his Officers, rais'd the Posse Comitatus, summon'd the Inhabitants out of the Villages from the Age of 50 to 15, and put himself at their Head, taking the neighbouring Justices of the Peace as Associates in the Command. Thus he advanced towards the Castle, and at length halting, summon'd the Captain to surrender; but he refused, with opprobrious Expressions, and gave him besides a Volley of small Shot. The Sheriff on this called a Council of War, and it was agreed to attack the Castle in Form: The Goaler was placed at the Head of a Party of Pioneers, with Spades, Pickaxes, Iron Crows, &c. and actually turn'd the Course of a small Rivulet which supply'd the Castle with Water; the Sheriff at the Head of his Men then drew up and fir'd, which was return'd and repeated above fifty Times, on both sides, but no Mischief was done to the Sheriff's Company, the Enemy firing only out of the Spike-Holes, which the others ply'd so closely with their Shot, that those within dared not look out to take any level, which gave likewise an Opportunity to the Goaler, with his Pioneers, to come up; and they succeeded so well that after a short Time a Breach was made, and the Place carried Sword in Hand. M'Cullogh had made his Retreat out of a back Window, but the rest of the Garrison were made Prisoners of War, many of them wounded, and some dangerously. The Doors were found strongly barricaded with Timber and Rolling-Stones fix'd in the Ground. There were found in the Castle Blunderbusses, Firelocks, Swords, and other Arms; but they had spent all their Powder during the Attack. There were likewise found in the Castle, five Geese, Sheep, Barrels of Flour and Water, with other Provisions to stand a Siege; for M'Cullogh, suspecting the Rivulet that run thro' the Castle would be cut off, had preserv'd Water in Barrels upon a determin'd Resolution to stand a Siege against the High-Sheriff. But this Gentleman having thus bravely reduc'd the Castle, sent out Spies after M'Cullogh, and soon got Intelligence of the Cassine where he had retir'd; thither he march'd at the Head of his Men, and summon'd him again to surrender; but Preparations being made for fresh Defence, he began a new Siege, attack'd, made a Breach, and enter'd, and found the Captain hid in a Loft behind a Chimney; from whence being pull'd by the Heels, the High-Sheriff ran in, with his Pistol in his Hand, and seiz'd him, and protected him from his Officers, who, enrag'd from the Danger they had undergone, were going to do him a Mischief: After this he handed him to a Carr, and was his Guard to the House call'd the Ward; from whence he sent him that Night, together with his travelling Lady (who had bravely stood all the Fires) and the rest of the Prisoners under a strong Guard to his Majesty's Goal at Killmainham: And we hear, that the High Sheriff has reported the several Facts to the Lords Justices for his Majesty's Pleasure therein.

Frederica, in Georgia, September 20.

Don Antonio de Arredondo, the Spanish Commissary, demanded of Mr. Oglethorpe, that the English should evacuate all they stood possest of as far St. Helena's Sound, the Spaniards having formerly had Forts there. Mr. Oglethorpe demanded of him that the Spaniards should evacuate as far as the 29th Degree of North Latitude, conformable to King Charles the 2ds Charter, the English having formerly had possession as far as that Latitude, Sir Francis Drake having by Queen Elizabeth's Order taken Augustine. After many Conferences, Don Antonio de Arredondo agreed that on the withdrawing the Garrison from the Island of St. George, the said Island should remain unpossest by either Party till Advices should arrive from Europe. And that no Hostilities should be committed on either side, till the Determination of the English and Spanish Courts should be known, and all other Claims be deferred till their Determination. Don Antonio and the other Spanish Gentlemen with him took leave of Mr. Oglethorpe, making great Acknowledgements to him for the Civilities they had received, and sailed from Jekyl Sound in the Spanish Vessel on the 3d of this Month.

After which, Mr. Oglethorpe went up the River Altamaha several Days Journey, he returned by the Darien and marked out the Fortifications for that Place, and ordered a Church, School-House and Guard-House to be built. Whilst he was there, Captain Macpherson arriv'd with a Drove of Cattle which he had brought all the Way over Land from South-Carolina.

This has caused Joy in all our Settlements to find the Communication for Cattle by Land opened, whereby these Southern Settlements will be supplied with Milk and fresh Provisions, of which they have hitherto stood in great need.

Lo! swarming southward on rejoicing Suns,
Gay COLONIES extend; The calm Retreat
Of undeserv'd Distress, the better Home
Of those whom Bigots chase from foreign Lands.
Not built on Rapine, Servitude and Woe,
And in their Turn some petty Tyrant's Prey;
But, bound by Social Freedom, firm they rise;
Such as, of late, an OGLETHORPE has form'd,
And, crowding round, the charm'd Savannah sees.
